Pennsylvania and Annapolis Will Not Row Second Bace. ANNAPOLIS, Md., May 14.-The midshipmen will finish this year's rowing season on May 28 by rowing their first and second crews against by rowing their first and second crews against those of Georgetown. The efforts to schedule a second race with the University of Pennsylvania have not been successful.

Pennsylvania offered to row on May 16, but Annapolis would not agree to this on account of their being crippled, but offered to accept Pennsylvania's entrance to the Georgetown race.

Pennsylvania could not accept this, as it was too near its other races. The Middy crew has sustained a severe loss on account of Smyth, the stroke, who has been suffering with boils, which have much weakened him. Farley, formerly No. 6, is being used in this position. Laird and Todd of the first crew are also in bad shape. Gus Gardner Whips Billy Armstrong in Billy Armstrong of California, who received a fine recommendation from Jim Jeffries as a lightweight, had a chance to show Jeffries as a lightweight, had a chance to show what he could do against Gus Gardner of Philadelphia at Savannah, Ga., on Wednesday night. Armstrong and Gardner met under the auspices of the Savannah A. C. and the battle was to have been for twenty rounds at the lightweight limit. Armstrong was not in it at any stage. He was slow and cumbersome and was knocked out in the third with a left hook on the chin. Gardner on the other hand was very fast and proved himself to be a stiff puncher. Minotaur broke first and, attended by Forward, made the running to the head of the stretch. Then Forward stopped and Minotaur looked as if he would win easily until Ingold came up with a rush and compelled Fuller to drive Mr. Farrell's cott to the wire, where the latter won by a head in the good time of 1:21.

Ingold was two and a half lengths before Durazzo, who in turn was a length and a half before Red Knight, the latter beating Blue and Orange a head, with Foxy Kane a similar distance behind.

The most exciting race of the day was the last event, a handicap at a mile and a sixteenth over the hill. There were only three starters and all of them carried a world of money. In the final quotations Grand Opera, who gave away weight to the others, was taken to the front by Bullman and led to the top of the long stretch, where he began to tire, and Hunter Raine continued to fight it out with Numeral. It was a thrilling drive right up to the last lump in which Hunter Raine got the verdict by a nose in 1:48/3, a quarter of a second slower than the track record, with Numeral half a length before Grand Opera.

Newton Bennington's Royal was made an odds-on favorite in the fifth event, for four-year-olds and upward at a mile, and at the head of the stretch it looked as if he was beaten, but O'Neil let him down and in a red-hot finish he got him home a head in front of Surmise, who stopped in the stretch. The mile was run in 1:39½.

For the opening event, a highweight handicap run down the Eclipse course, Julius Fleischmann's St. Daniel was the choice at 13 to 5, although St. Jude and Wealth were both heavily supported at fours. St. Daniel kicked up a cloud of dust for the others almost from the start and won cleverly by a length, St. Jude taking the place from General Prig, a good thing, by a neck. The time was 1:31-5.

William C. Whitney's Mimosa, a handsome daughter of Hamburg—Castalia, was the pick for the second event, for two-year-olds as if shot. Then Mimosa took up the pace making and made good to the end, winning CRICAGO, May 14.—Scratches at Worth practically ruined the Admiral Stakes, the feature of the card there to day. Many expected to see a good race between G. C. Bennetts Sanctum and E. E. Smathers's $8,000 colt Olick Bernard, but they were among the absentees. Palsy Brown and Jerry Lynch were coupled as the F. T. Wood entry and held as odds-on favorites. Jerry Lynch won, breaking the track record by running the four and one-half furlongs in 0:54 3-5. Dominick on Patsy Brown, under instructions, purposely suffered Jerry Lynch to win.

In the shird race, a sprint of six furlongs, the unlucky little mare Burnie Bunton was beaten by Autumn Leaves, who was well backed at 5 to 2. Burnie Bunton was always the choice at 11 to 10. The card was a good one throughout and the perfect track and weather conditions drew out a large crowd.

STEEPLECHASE RIDER HAS COM-POUND FRACTURE OF SKULL.

octor Thinks There Is a Slight Chance for Recovery—Mexican Pulis Up Bleed-ing After Working and May Not Start in Withers -- Morris Park Racing Gossip Lawrence Barry, the steeplechase jockey who was thrown in the Knickerbocker Hurdle Handicap at Morris Park on Wednesday, was still unconscious at Fordham Hospital yesterday. Dr. Jackson Campbell, who is was suffering from a compound fracture of covery. According to Dr. Campbell, Barry's wonderful physique may be the means of his pulling through. Still, he said, the jockey's life was hanging by a thread, and a fatal result might be expected at any moment.

R. T. Wilson Jr.'s crack three-year-old colt Mexican seems to be in hard luck. Just after winning the Produce Stakes at Brighton last year, Mr. Wilson purchased him, only to discover that the son of Mirthful had gone lame. Trainer Healey temporarily retired him, and when he began training this spring Mexican showed no signs of his ail-ment. He won a smashing race at Morris Park last Monday, but yesterday morning, after working an easy mile in 1:45, he pulled will not be a starter in the Withers on Saturday, for which it was believed he had a royal chance.

Before the races yesterday Frank Farrell told his friends to play Tim Sullivan straight and place in the second race and Minotaur straight and place in the van Nest stakes, but he advised them to keep off of Blues, because he said that the Sir Dixon horse could not be pronounced fit, although he had worked well in his preliminary. Mr. Farrell dropped a large commission on Tim Sullivan, placed a comparatively small bet on Blues, but went to Minotaur with a bet large enough to enable him to clean up well on the day. William N. Fleischmann, on his own judgment, placed $2,000 on Blues at even money. While Mr. Fleischmann was hurrying to the track in an automobile he was held up on Jerome avenue by a mounted policeman, who informed him that he was travelling at a rate faster than the legal requirements. Mr. Fleischmann told the bluecoat that he would deem it a favor if he was allowed to proceed to the track, as he wanted to put a bet on St. Daniel in the first race.

The policeman pulled a newspaper from his pocket and, finding that St. Daniel was entered in the first event, permitted Mr! Fleischmann to go ahead after the latter had handed over his card. St. Daniel, by the way, although he warned up like a wild horse and was favorite, was not funcied by smart bettors, who said that he needed a couple of races and who declared that the issue lay between Wealth and St. Jude. Hardy Durham started a good thing in the first race in General Prig, who was backed down from fifties to twenties and ran third. If he had won, the Westerners would have put a crimp in the layers' bank rolls.

F. R. Hitchcock's Grey Fire and L. V. Bell's Good Morning H. were declared out of the Suburban yesterday.
